FIRE FOLLOWS IN WAKE OF TORNADO

Fears Add to Distress and Distress at Snyder, Okla.—Probable That Many Bodies Are Buried in the Debris.

WORK OF RELIEF

SNYDER, Oklahoma, May 11.—At midnight all estimates of the number of persons killed by last night's tornado exceed 100, and 150 persons were injured, more than 40 seriously.

Ninety-five persons are known to be dead, several are missing, and a number of the wounded are in critical condition. The wounded found shelter in an improvised hospital until tonight when they were taken to hospitals in Guthrie and Oklahoma City. The financial loss is estimated at $350,000.

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 11. A special to the Times from Hobart says:

To add to the general confusion and distress after the tornado at Snyder had passed, fire broke out and burned up all that remained of the buildings in the business block. As yet it has not been possible to learn if any bodies were cremated, but it is highly possible that such is the case.

Scantling Through Head.

A woman was picked up dead, having been pinned down by a scantling which entered her left eye and came out through the back of her head. Clarence Donovan and Miss Nina Fredericks were to have been married last night but had just postponed the nuptials until this morning when the tornado struck. Both were instantly killed.

Fred Crane, a boy of 17, had started to run when a flying timber struck him and severed his head from his body.

Debris was carried to the northeast as far as Cooperton, 12 miles, and at Snyder the ruins are piled high.

It is reported that there are more fragments of homes at that town and vicinity than are in the tornado path at Snyder.

About 25 head of horses and cattle were killed on the town site. A committee was set to work this morning to remove carcasses.

Arranging for Burial.

The mayor of Snyder is having much trouble arranging for the burial of the dead. The confusion is growing owing to the fact that there still remains a number of unidentified bodies at the morgues. There is considerable suffering owing to lack of provisions and places to stay.

What houses remain in town are in a bad condition. Bedding and wearing apparel are lacking and despite the effort to succor the unfortunates, they are still in a bad condition. Many of the wounded could not be cared for or given medical aid until 9 o'clock this morning and by that time their wounds were in a bad condition.

Dr. York of this city who was active in relieving the sufferings says that 20 per cent of the injured will die.

The total number of injured is now estimated at 150. The number of bodies recovered is 85. Several are yet missing and it is certain that before another day a dozen will be added to the list.

A car of provisions, supplies, bedding, etc., was shipped from here this evening and a large crowd went down on the evening train to assist the distressed.

Undertakers Give Services.

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 11.—The St. Louis and San Francisco railroad today sent 100 laborers in a special train to Snyder, where they will be used in burying the victims of the tornado and also to clear away the wreckage.

On the special train were 12 of the leading undertakers who participated in the funeral directors' convention which closed today. They took with them 100 coffins and will tomorrow devote their time free to the burial of the dead.

GAINS SEVENTEEN MILES NEW ATTACK MADE EARLY TODAY

GUTHRIE, O. T., May 11.—The latest official reports from the tornado stricken town of Snyder, Okla., place the list of dead at 85. Other rumors advance this figure to 100. It is highly probable that the death list when accurately tabulated will reach 132, although most conservative estimates place it at 100.

Number of Injured Growing.

Of those reported there are various estimates reaching from 400 to 600. It is impossible this early to arrive at any definite idea of the property loss, considering the fact that not a single building in the town of Snyder was left undamaged and the additional fact of the great damage to live stock, fruits and crops. It is very probable that the total harm done by the storm will reach a higher figure.

The storm formed near the Texas line and its path extends in a northeasterly direction for over 40 miles causing damage at Altus and other small towns and to the country as well as at Snyder. Reports indicate that the casualties outside of Snyder will aggregate over 25 and may go higher. At Snyder the lack of means to bury the dead is causing serious inconvenience. There is plenty of medical attention however, financial aid being needed most.

Governor Asks Aid.

Governor T. B. Ferguson today issued a request upon the mayors of various Oklahoma places, the heads of charitable organizations and the pastors of churches to collect funds for the assistance of the sufferers there being no statutory means for the appropriation of money for calamities similar to the one at Snyder. Numbers of citizens have responded and assistance is being rendered as fast as practicable. Governor Ferguson has ordered the signal corps of the National guard to proceed to Snyder from Lawton to aid in the rescue work.

Secretary Charles Cunningham of the Scottish Rite bodies of Oklahoma and Indian Territory has announced that there is on hand and immediately available for purposes of aid several hundred dollars in the vicinity of that order.

Havoc Is Complete.

SNYDER, Okla., via Mangum, May 11.—The havoc wrought by the tornado is complete, and of a total of 1,400 people of whom the census of the town consisted, about two-thirds of the buildings are totally wrecked.

The storm formed south of Cheyenne, near the Texas line, and took a northeasterly course through a well settled section. At Sandusky it was observed by the people of Snyder, but the tidal force was not developed to any great degree and though the roar of the storm was heard for some time before the storm broke, no damage of the character that was done in Snyder was reported.

Coming of the Tornado.

[illegible] began falling for several minutes, when it stopped almost as suddenly as it had commenced. A few minutes of ominous calm followed, and then the tornado struck, tearing buildings to places as though they were made of paper.

Many people who had thought to take advantage of the calm to seek refuge in cellars were caught in the streets and between buildings where some were lifted high in the air and dashed to the ground as though hurled from catapults, while others were struck by flying debris and beaten almost beyond recognition.

Those who remained in their houses fared no better as the path of the tornado, which swept across all excepting a few blocks to the southeastern corner of the town. The frame structures collapsed like eggshells, burying occupants under the debris, killing, crushing and maiming.

Six Hotels Wrecked.

Six of the eight hotels were torn to pieces, burying many in the wreckage. North of the railroad track, where many cottages stood not one is left and the wreckage is mostly carried away. In a few moments it was all over and the air was filled with the shrieks of the injured, mingled with cries of those who had escaped and were seeking lost ones. Within a short time messengers were dispatched to Mountain Park, two and a half miles away where the news was sent by telephone to Hobart. Physicians and nurses were called for and relief trains were made up at Hobart, Chickasha and Lawton and hurried to the scene by the Frisco. Meanwhile the able-bodied survivors in Snyder were working heroically all through the night amid the most heart-rending scenes. A building was utilized for a temporary hospital and another used as a morgue. The latter, a drygoods building, presented a gruesome appearance with its shelves lined with the dead. The search for bodies was kept up all day and at 6 o'clock 80 had been recovered, others are being searched for, which with the casualties reported from the country will probably raise the death list to a hundred. Several of the injured will be added to the list of fatalities. The most pressing need is financial. Organization was perfected among the citizens today and appeals were sent out to leading cities of the territories asking for immediate assistance. In addition to the seriously injured who are being cared for at the hospital, many sustained lesser injuries and are provisionated for the work of caring for the needy.

STRIKERS DRIVEN FROM POSTS BY WIND AND RAIN

Wind and Rain Drive Strikers' Pickets From Their Posts.

SCORED PLAYERS

SOME TROUBLE IN OUTSKIRTS OF THE BUSINESS DISTRICT. TESTIMONY ON VIOLATIONS OF INJUNCTION.

CHICAGO, May 11. The teamsters' strike today was practically without incident. During storms of wind and rain which swept the streets at frequent intervals last night the pickets deserting the majority of the posts and they were practically no disturbances of any kind in the business section of the city. In the outskirts, however, there were a few attacks upon the drivers of delivery wagons but with the exception of one colored man, who was knocked senseless by a strong, no bones were injured.

Violations of Injunctions.

The most important fact of the strike developments were the examination of witnesses this afternoon before Master in Chancery Sheehan, who is hearing testimony relative to the alleged violation of the federal injunctions granted in favor of the Employers' association and of the several express companies.

Adolph Ifert, a driver for the Adams Express company, but now a striker, refused to answer questions on the ground that he might incriminate himself. The answers given to him by the attorneys for the Employers' association covered the ground of the cause of the strike and whether or not the officials of his union ordered or advised him to strike.

To all of these questions Attorney Lebowsky for the defendants made strenuous objections with the result that there occurred between him and Attorney Mayer, acting for the plaintiffs, numerous altercations, in one of which Attorney Mayer declared that in stating matters to the master Attorney Lebowsky had been unfair almost to the point of dishonesty.

Attorneys Wrangled.

The wrangles were finally terminated by the statement of the master that the matter would be certified to the federal court as to whether or not the witness [illegible] proper grounds on which to base [illegible] to answer questions. Attorney Mayer said that he would not take the matter before the court immediately, because he expected similar occurrences in the future and he would present them all at one time. Two non-union drivers testified concerning assaults and threats by strikers.

The hearing before Master in Chancery Sherman will be continued tomorrow.

Union Teamster Shot.

John Bernard, a union teamster, was shot in the hand and thigh tonight by a colored man employed as a driver at the store where Bernard was employed before the strike as a picket around the place and when several of the negroes who drive wagons now for the department store met Bernard and some of his friends tonight they offered to fight them. The invitation was declined and one of the colored men, drawing a revolver fired at Bernard. He was taken to the hospital where his condition is said to be serious. His assailant escaped.

Cabmen today added a new annoyance to the list of discomforts suffered by women as a result of the strike. While torrents of rain deluged the streets, women passengers in order to reach the large retail stores were forced to leave their conveyances, in some cases a block away, pickets warning all union drivers not to approach the carriage entrance.

ROOSEVELT HOME AGAIN

OFFICIAL MEMBERS OF THE PARTY TELL OF HEARTY RECEPTION ACCORDED HIM EVERYWHERE.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—President Roosevelt reached home at midnight tonight from his western trip which he regards as one of the most enjoyable journeys he has taken since he has been president.

He traveled 8,000 miles and passed through twenty states and three territories, Missouri, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Indian Territory, Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Colorado, Nebraska and Iowa.

Every state and territory in the United States except Florida and Arkansas have been visited by the president who, he has asserted, left each of them with the impression that he was the favorite son. The popularity of the president was shown in many instances. It is probable that he will take a tour of the south some time before the next campaign.

The large number of points [illegible] where the president spoke are said by the officials of the party to be the forty-six [illegible] that were heard that were heard by the largest audiences that have been recorded on any trip.

The president left the train immediately after it rolled into the station. He shook hands with the train employes, newspaper men and others who greeted him. Then with Dr. Lambert he stepped into his carriage and was driven to the White house.

HARRISBURG WRECK

Twenty Persons Are Known to Be Dead and More Than 100 Injured in Explosion and Wreck.

SPECIAL TRAIN DESTROYED

HARRISBURG, Pa., May 11.—Twenty persons are known to be dead and more than 100 were injured in the railroad wreck and dynamite explosion which occurred early today on the Pennsylvania railroad in the southern part of this city.

That no more persons were killed is considered remarkable by the Pennsylvania officials as a full box car of dynamite exploded directly at the middle of the heavy express train.

The Pennsylvania road officials tonight gave out a list containing the names of 98 persons who were injured and were treated at hospitals or elsewhere. The sympathy also gave out a list containing names of persons who were in the wreck and whose injuries are not given. Among the injured is F. H. Atcheson of Denver, who suffered a compound fracture of the left [illegible].

The train carried a number of prominent persons and most of them escaped with only slight injuries. The wrecked train was the second section of the Cleveland and Cincinnati express, leaving Philadelphia at 11 o'clock last night. It consisted of a combination baggage and smoking car, one day coach and six sleeping cars.

There are various stories of how the wreck occurred, but the official version is as follows:

About 1:40 o'clock the engine on an eastbound freight train was flagged by the crew of a shifting engine ahead on the same track. The engineer quickly put on his air brakes and the train, an unusually long one came to a sudden halt. The strain on the air valves was a severe one, and a connecting air hose in the middle of the train blew out. This caused the middle of the train to buckle and the damaged cars fell over on the passenger tracks.

Just as this happened the express came thundering along and side swiped the wreck. The express was stopped within its own length and the third sleeper was opposite the wrecked cars. Before any one could leave the passenger train which was not very badly [illegible] a few slight explosions occurred and then there was one great explosion that shook the earth. The whole affair occurred within a period of a few seconds.

Scene of Horror Follows.

A scene of horror followed the explosion of the dynamite. The passenger cars and some of the freight cars immediately took fire. As the reverberation of the terrific explosion died away across the Susquehanna river, the [illegible] of the injured could be heard. Men and women came rushing from the car windows and crawled from under the wreckage.

Shortly afterward another explosion occurred. Fearing that the entire freight train might be loaded with dynamite no one dared go near the wreck. Finally the railroad men who knew the contents of the burning freight train led the way and the uninjured passengers followed.

TWENTY DEAD BY EXPLOSION

Following is a list of the dead:

P. L. CRABBE, Pittsburg.
ALFRED CROSBY.
GEORGE ZEIGLER, Pittsburg.
JAMES R. PHILLIPS, Pittsburg.
PAUL BRIGHT, Pittsburg.
M. B. SHAW, Pittsburg.
J. L. SILVERMAN, Philadelphia.
MRS. ROBERT C. DOUGHTERY, Philadelphia.
H. K. THOMAS, Parksburg, Pa., engineer of express.
C. KUHLMANN, Altoona, Pa.
NORMA, MARTINA, 7 months old.
Nine unidentified bodies.

Scores of those who were trapped in their berths or pinioned under the wreckage were taken out and laid in the field badly hurt.

The advancing of the fire drove the rescuers back as they were about to take others from the wreck and the unfortunates were soon enveloped in the flames. The cries of the dying were heart rending, but nothing could be done for them.

Entire Train Consumed.

An alarm of fire was sent in but when the firemen reached the scene the flames had done their work. The entire train was consumed.

With the firemen came a corps of physicians from the city. As quickly as the injured were temporarily relieved of pain they were placed on special trains and trolley cars and hurried to the hospital here.

Several hundred railroad laborers were on the spot within an hour and by daybreak their number had been increased to a thousand. It was a gruesome task for the railroad men. Not one whole body was found in the wreck. Either an arm or a leg or all four limbs were burned off the trunk and in several cases only portions of the trunks are found. Ten such bodies were found under one full car. It is the belief of the railroad officials that if the explosion had occurred there could have been no loss of life.

Coroner Kunkel [illegible] which viewed the bodies this afternoon. He will begin taking testimony tomorrow.

The physicians and nurses at the Harrisburg hospital have been working incessantly since the first of the injured were taken there at 2:30 o'clock this morning. The hospital is crowded to the doors and row after row of cots occupy the wards.

GAINS SEVENTEEN MILES IN RUSSIAN ATTACK SUNDAY

GUNSHU PASS, May 11.—The Japanese advance now appears to have been a feint to ascertain the strength of the Russian outposts, which have been again pushed forward on the left at Lafangou, Erdaoyu and Tougou and along the center line from Podymouzhi to Shibousa, where the Japanese attacked the Russians May 7 and May 8, but were repulsed.

The next day, in order to oust the Japanese from the shahetzy pass from which their attack was organized a column of cavalry supported by artillery moved forward under cover of the Russian guns and the mines were turned, the Japanese retiring first to Singyangou and later to Madopa, three miles south of Shantafu.

Russian Center on Railroad.

On the right back the situation is unchanged. The Russian front resembles a crescent with the center resting on the railroad and the horns pointing south. Prisoners say the new troops of Japan are old men and youths. They give the Japanese losses at Mukden as 12,645 killed and about 50,000 wounded.

TOKIO, May 12. The following telegram from Army headquarters in Manchuria was officially given out today:

"On the morning of May 8 the enemy, consisting of two regiments of infantry, five sotnias of cavalry and one battery of artillery made an attack in the vicinity of Tingcheng.

Russians Dispersed.

"At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the enemy made a fresh attack. Under the cover of the artillery the infantry advanced to within 100 [illegible] of our line whereupon our garrison assumed the offensive, attacked and dispersed the enemy.

"The enemy left 60 killed and 100 wounded on the field. Besides these soldiers dressed in Chinese clothing carried away many killed and wounded.

"The enemy's losses are estimated at 500.

"Our casualties were one killed and 50 wounded."

Japan Replies.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 11.—General Linevitch, in a dispatch to Emperor Nicholas dated May 8 says:

"Our advance posts along the line from Podymouzhe to Sutsiapu were attacked by the enemy's cavalry May 7. The Japanese were repulsed. The enemy renewed the attack May 8 but were again unsuccessful.

"On May 9 our cavalry advanced in the direction of Shahetzy mines which were occupied by Japanese who in the face of our artillery fire and a turning movement westward of the mine [illegible] obliged to retire toward the village of Strianzou from which they subsequently were dislodged, retiring to the village of Madiopa.

AMERICAN STOCK GROWERS [illegible]

DENVER, May 11.—By resolutions adopted today the American Stock Growers' association pledged itself to "work in harmony with all live stock associations, whether local, state or national."

President J. F. Hagenbarth of the National Live Stock association, sought to have the committee on resolutions replace a resolution pledging the American association to "hearty cooperation in the work projected by the National association."

Harmony With All.

This was opposed by Sir. Lewis, member of the committee on resolutions, a compromise was finally reached by striking out the name of the National Live Stock association and pledging the American association to work in harmony with all live stock organizations, local, state or national, "to bring about the reforms so essential to the prosperity of the agricultural and live stock interests."

Resolutions were adopted thanking President Roosevelt "for his fight for equal rights to all at the hands of the railroads," declaring that the "present railroad law is inadequate and should be strengthened by giving to the Interstate Commerce commission power to substitute just fair and reasonable rates for those which it may find on investigation to be unjust or unreasonable," condemning the private car line systems controlled by the packers; asking repeal of laws requiring unloading of live stock in transit; opposing the tonnage system in transportation of live stock and asking for a minimum speed of 20 miles an hour for stock trains; and demanding "that the senate of the United States shall agree to the ratification of that great principle [illegible] which we regard as essential to [illegible] and live stock industries."

HELD UP AND SAVES BANK

MISTAKE ON PART OF NIGHT TELEPHONE OPERATOR ALARMS BURGLARS.

SHE CONNECTED WITH THE BANK INSTEAD OF CITY MARSHAL AND CASHIER. ROBBERS ESCAPE.

FRUITA, Colo., May 11.—A mistake on the part of Miss Nellie Sperry, the night telephone operator here at an early hour today saved the First National bank of this place from having its big steel safe blown open and robbed of many thousands of dollars locked therein. The safe-crackers, who almost succeeded in reaching the money, made good their escape, but the sheriff of Mesa county, with a posse, is on their trail.

Before attacking the First National bank the robbers broke into the big general store of the Fruita Mercantile company, where they cracked the safe and got away with $500. They then went to the bank, broke the lock on the front door and began work on the big vault.

They soon blew off the outside doors and were drilling holes around the edges of the inner door when two men who were sleeping in a nearby harness shop noticed a sudden flash of light from the dark lantern the robbers used.

These men called up the central telephone office, told Miss Sperry of their suspicions and asked her to notify the city marshal and the cashier by telephone. Miss Sperry in her excitement connected with the bank and rang that telephone vigorously instead of the marshal's house.

The ringing of the bell evidently convinced the safe-crackers that they had set off a burglar alarm and they lost no time in picking up their jimmies and fleeing. The robbers stole a ranchman's team and started in the direction of Grand Junction. The team was found at daybreak and the safe-crackers are thought to now be in Grand Junction or hiding near that place.

PROTESTANTS FOR SALONIKA JEWS

TROOPS ORDERED TO PREVENT FURTHER ATTACKS UPON THEM — NO DETAILS OF MASSACRES PRINTED.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 11.—The Novosti, the Jewish organ, claims to have information showing that the massacre of Jews at Zhitomir was regularly organized while the Syn Otetchestva says Jewesses were assaulted during the attacks made upon the Israelites at Gostynin.

The government papers are not permitted to print details of the recent attacks on Jews.

At the ministry of the interior no detailed report of the rioting at Zhitomir had been received up to 7 o'clock this evening. A brief dispatch announced that the published reports were exaggerated and added that all was quiet there today and that the local authorities had carried out the instructions sent by Interior Minister Bulygan to maintain order. Troops had been brought to Zhitomir and notice had been given that if any further attempt was made to molest the Jews the soldiers would fire on those causing the disturbance.

BOUTELLE SUED AS ARREST FOR FRAUD

PARIS, May 11.—Count Czaykowski, from whom his wife, who was Miss Edith L. Collins, of New York, secured a decree of separation last November, was recently arrested, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses from Patterson and Lozier, bankers of this city.

The bankers allege that the count secured an advance from them in order that he might proceed to the United States and claim twenty million dollars which he said he had inherited from a Boston relative named Clarke.

Patterson and Lozier claimed that they received in repayment a check for $4,000 drawn on American banking concern from a Boston solicitor, but that when it was presented payment was found to have been stopped. When urged to repay them, they allege, Count Czaykowski proposed that M. Patterson accompany him to America to adjust matters, promising him a substantial recompense. He agreed to do this, the bankers aver, but as the count demanded further advances and delayed his departure the charge against him was brought.

Count Czaykowski was released on bail. The Turkish embassy has stated it is said, and the sultan ordered the count to return to Turkey where he now is.

"A GAMBLER'S DAUGHTER."

The largest Thursday matinee ever given to the Fountain company and a night house which utilized all available space furnished material evidence to the fact that the production of "Sapho" struck the public fancy. The production was in every way worthy of the patronage given for it is to be classed with the best the Fountain company has offered and was in every way a credit to the organization.

Tonight the offering is "A Gambler's Daughter," a sensational melodrama and one of the best of its class. For three years it has been one of the greatest drawing cards in the east and the Fountain company is deserving of credit for securing it. With the scenes laid in the Adirondacks and in New York city, "A Gambler's Daughter" is the story of America and of types in American life which have been but little utilized. From first to last it is sensational, the character drawing is strong, the situations and climaxes thrilling and the comedy is unusually good. This production requires the full strength of the Fountain company. Bobby and Marie Fountain have parts which show them to good advantage and each and every member of the company is happily cast. Incidental to the production there will be a fine program of specialties and the entire performance is one which is certain to please the admirers of this excellent company.

JUDGE DIXON SPEAKS

PUEBLO, May 11.—Judge N. Walter Dixon administered a severe rebuke to a jury in division B of the district court yesterday afternoon when it returned a verdict of acquittal in favor of Chas. Anderson, charged with assault to kill Olin Green.

His honor said he was utterly at a loss to understand how a jury of intelligent men, for such he believed the jurors to be, could return a verdict of acquittal in the face of the evidence introduced. In all his experience, he added, in the practice of law and on the bench he had never known of such a verdict to be returned.

Anderson is a negro and according to the evidence took a shot at Green in a Bowery saloon. It was not brought out in the trial what had been the cause of the shooting.

[illegible] BURN [illegible]

WHEELING, W. Va., May 11.—Early today a special train reached Downs from Morgantown with a small cannon on board. Three shots were fired against the side of the Standard Oil company's burning oil tank, releasing the 14,000 barrels of oil, thus relieving the danger of a disastrous explosion that would have destroyed the town.

MANNINGTON, W. Va., May 11.—About midnight while Operator Frank Leach was gauging the oil in the huge 12,000 barrel oil tank of the Eureka Pipe Line company at Downs, near here, he struck a match and immediately there was a terrific explosion. Leach was thrown with great force a considerable distance and was seriously but not fatally injured.

The explosion blew a large hole in the roof of the tank and almost immediately the oil was on fire. The tank was nearly full. Every effort was made by the people of Downs to quench the flames but without success. It is feared that the tank will explode in which event the entire destruction of the town is certain.

A special train left Morgantown with a cannon on board and it is intended to make a breach in the side of the tank and allow the oil to escape, thus preventing the explosion that is feared.

TWO YOUTHS CAUGHT BY POLICE AND MISSING BICYCLE IS FOUND UNDER COSTILLA BRIDGE.

G. C. Hyde and W. C. Gregg, self-confessed bicycle thieves, are in the city jail awaiting a hearing this morning before Justice Ruby on a charge of larceny. Two wheels, one belonging to R. F. Hutchins, of C. P. Bennett's office, and the other belonging to C. J. Rich, of 221 South Weber street, are at the city hall, both machines having been stolen and recovered. Another wheel belonging to Carl Chase was sold in Manitou by the two and this will be recovered today.

Officer Railsback, who is on duty on Huerfano street in the day time, came upon Hyde and Gregg as they were trying to dispose of a wheel to a pawnbroker. Just as the officer came up, one of the men said, "There's a cop," and immediately started off. Railsback suspected something was wrong and "nabbed" Hyde, but Gregg made his escape. He took Hyde and the wheel to headquarters, where he gave Detective Shultz and Rowan a description of the other man. They went out and found him on Pike's Peak avenue, and the two men, when confronted with the charge confessed and told where the wheel was. It was hidden under the Costilla street bridge of the Santa Fe where it was found by the detectives.

The men also confessed to selling a wheel in Manitou, and it is believed that confessions of other bicycle thefts will be secured from the men. Hyde is from Canon City and Gregg is from Leadville. They are 18 and 21 years of age respectively.

Who the men behind the deal are is not given out, but a representative of the syndicate is in the city conducting the negotiations. While the syndicate is not composed of the stockholders of the defunct company, it is said that several of them are interested in the deal.

The patrons and friends of the Garfield kindergarten were guests at a well attended exhibition and reception yesterday afternoon from 3 until 5 o'clock in the school building. A DAY OF DISASTERS.

IT WOULD be difficult to conceive of two more horrible disasters than those which occurred in Oklahoma and Pennsylvania Tuesday night. Sudden enough, and awful death to vast uncounted scores of people both occurred in the dead of night, and both were accompanied by circumstances which emphasized the hideousness of the situations. The tornado which wiped out the little Oklahoma town of Snyder struck the place at 21 o'clock at night, while the wreck at Harrisburg occurred at 1:30 o'clock the following morning. Allowing time for the difference in time the two disasters were only about an hour and a half apart.

At this season of the year the tornado is a phenomenon to be dreaded by the people of the entire middle West. Kansas is usually regarded as the center of these atmospheric disturbances, but as a matter of fact they occur with varying frequency throughout the entire region from Texas north to the Canadian line. Only a few days ago one struck a farming community in Minnesota, leaving a trail of death and desolation behind it.

The region in which tornadoes occur with greatest frequency includes Oklahoma, Indian Territory, Kansas, Nebraska and southern Missouri. The whirlwind always moves in a northeasterly direction and nothing can stand before it. This was shown in May, 1896 when a portion of the Merchant's Bridge in St. Louis and scores of substantial buildings were destroyed by the terrible cyclone which struck the Missouri metropolis.

But death in this form is far less dreadful than that which came to the passengers on the ill fated train wrecked near Harrisburg. A more harrowing combination of circumstances could scarcely be imagined. First, a freight train derailed and thrown across a parallel track; then a fast express, plunging at terrific speed into the mass of debris, set afire and blown to pieces with giant powder. Constantly recurring explosions and the intense heat prevented rescuers from doing effective work, and fully a score of helpless victims pinned under the wreckage and burned alive.

It will perhaps be hard to fix the responsibility for this tragedy, but judging only from the dispatches of yesterday, it seems that somebody blundered in not warning the approaching express train of the freight wreck which blocked the track. It must have been known that the express was due, and the first thought of the freight train crew should have been for the oncoming train, carrying its scores of precious lives. Possibly there was no time for a warning, though it would seem to be a simple thing for somebody to grab a red light and signal the approaching train. But whatever the real cause, one thing is certain: the railroad company will swear that it was an act of Providence.

THE UTAH-COLORADO DEBATE.

The Utah-Colorado debate at Perkins Hall tonight will be an event of unusual interest, not only because the subject is timely and important, but because of its inter-state character. For several years annual debates have been held between teams from Colorado College and the University of Utah. Last year the meeting was held in Salt Lake City and was attended by about 3,000 people, with the Governor of the state presiding.

The seating capacity of Perkins Hall will not permit of such large attendance tonight, but there certainly should be an audience large enough to fill the hall. The question to be debated is: "Resolved: That the Closed Shop System is Beneficial to American Industries;" and the affirmative is taken by the visitors. This is a question of very great popular interest and the discussion will doubtless be both profitable and entertaining.

THE JAPANESE TORPEDO SERVICE.

"IN commenting on the probability that torpedo boats will play an important part in the next sea fight between the Japanese and the Russians, an American naval officer, interviewed by Walter Wellman, has expressed some views of particular interest as showing the element of fatalism in the Japanese nature which makes its possessors invincible. He said:

"The Japanese regard a torpedo boat as simply a human projectile. In the Japanese naval tactics a torpedo boat is merely a weapon of destruction that is to destroy the enemy as to destroy itself. It is expected to be destroyed exactly as a shell is destroyed when it hits its target and is splintered into pieces. The fact that the torpedo boat projectile contains human beings, stationed there to manipulate it and make it effective, does not count for anything in Japanese reckoning. It is to be fired at accordingly, the same. If by a rare stroke of good fortune the projectile is not destroyed and the men are able to get out alive so much the better. But nothing of the sort is counted on. The loss of the projectile and its crew is a matter of course in Japanese philosophy. It is simply one of the things that has to happen.

"The Japanese have shown greater ability in the use of the torpedo than any other nation, and it is probably this trait in their makeup that has enabled them to accomplish such amazing feats of valor. The torpedo service is the most dangerous branch of naval work. The necessity of sacrificing everything to speed makes the boats practically defenseless; they are mere eggshells, capable of being sunk in a minute by the fire of an automatic one pounder gun. They are useless in a fog and almost useless on a clear night for it is very difficult for a torpedo boat to get near enough to its target to discharge its projectile without being picked up by the searchlight.

"Therefore the conditions which best favor the operations of these sea scorpions are inky darkness a dense fog and a driving rain or snow. On such a night it is comparatively easy for a craft to approach its enemy without being seen. Under these conditions make the actual work of launching the boat all the harder. The sea is likely to be rough, the deck coated with ice and the men, who of necessity occupy exposed positions, benumbed with cold. The loading of the gun cotton, accurately and almost out at the muzzle, so it is not inappropriate that so few torpedo attacks are successful.

"The aim of considerably almost merely a piece of ammunition to be fired at the enemy and of course killed in so doing appeal to the average Occidental as fighting, however great its show of courage and patriotism may be, but it strikes the Japanese mind in an entirely different way. Service in the torpedo branch is the most eagerly sought after in the Japanese navy, for the very reason that it is the most difficult and dangerous. The greater the chance of being killed while performing some desperate deed for his country the more the slant-eyed son of Nippon relishes the task. Men imbued with such a spirit can not fail to win success of success as at all possible, and it is to this fact rather than to any superiority of the Japanese torpedo boats themselves, that the achievements of this branch of the service are due.

One of the many things Colorado has to be thankful for is that it is outside the tornado belt.

AN APPEAL TO THE PUBLIC.

Will you please help us raise the remainder of $1,000 which soon will be due on our church. On March 5, we, with the help of the First M. E. church raised $175.00. Now we, the members of the undersigned church, must raise $825.00 in a short time. This will pay all of the outside debts of the church. Then the remainder of our debt will be in one man's hands. The other two colored churches of the Springs are out of debt, and I appeal to the Christian public to help us out, for our indebtedness is a hindrance to us in our work for Christ.

Two years ago a number of gentlemen helped us to buy our lot to build on and we built a church at a cost of $4,000 and have paid it down to $2,500 and if the generous public will help us to raise this $1,000 we can handle the $1,500. Will you do so? Yours truly,

Press Opinions

DR. OSLER AS A HUMORIST.

The famous Dr. Osler of Baltimore bids fair to acquire a new reputation as a philosophical humorist. When he talked, not very seriously, about the comparative usefulness of men at different ages he was heralded as a cynic and his words were taken with the utmost gravity. It appears that he has now been advancing some radical theories in Canada, among them one that an export tax of $100 should be placed on Canadian girls. Doubtless the merry scientist from Baltimore was merely paying a graceful tribute to the bonnie lassies of Canada, but we shall now hear that he seriously advocated a most remarkable method of raising revenue for the government at Ottawa. Dr. Osler is also quoted as advising medical students to postpone indefinitely falling in love. The medical journals will now proceed, probably, to discuss this advice with great gravity and Dr. Osler may wish that he had departed for his new post at Oxford without indulging in such loquacity. But perhaps he is laughing in his sleeve all the time and rejoicing in his new reputation for eccentric philosophies.—Providence Journal.

THE YELLOW GIANT GETTING READY.

Time was when the appearance of Japan in the character of a great power was unthinkable. Today the world has to recognize the fact. Indications multiply that even China may experience a similar transformation. The yellow giant is training his huge frame for the harness of civilization.

Reports in our state department state that in many provinces of China agricultural and trades schools have been established and are making their influence felt in many directions. Every year an increasing number of Chinese students are being educated in foreign countries. That is just the way in which Japan made her start in assuming a knowledge of modern science and technical methods. Chinese youths are being taught military science and discipline in Japan, and will eventually supply China with native chiefs for the reorganization of her army. At the same time the industrial development of the country is progressing. Railways are being built, manufactures are increasing, and it is declared that there is no longer room for doubt that China is on the verge of a great future.

When this empire of 400,000,000 people obtains an organization which will bring her strength to bear a tremendous new force will be operative in the world's affairs. Before the present century is out the doings of the yellow giant may make a great deal of history.—Pittsburg Gazette.

Some Successful Failures

The Records Set by Jules Verne and Kipling in Books Often Beaten in Actual Railroading.

WHEN Kipling brought "Captains Courageous" to a dramatic climax by sending Harvey Cheyne, the railroad magnate's son, from Gibraltar to Gloucester by special train consisting of sixteen engines in eighty-seven hours and thirty-five minutes, the fictitious journey was not considered by contemporary critics as extraordinary as that of Jules Verne's character in "Around the World in Eighty Days." Nevertheless, the transcontinental trip had not been accomplished at the time of writing by Kipling up to the publication of "Captains Courageous," and the account of the journey, with its lavish spirit of expense and lordly pressure of men and machinery, was read with great interest by railroad men.

It was before the days of frequent great bursts of speed by special emergency trains. And even the most enthusiastic passenger agent, sanguine though this class is of the possibilities of rapid transit by rail, could not be led to express an assurance that the romance would soon be thrown into shadow by the reality of an actual trip.

Soon after the publication of Kipling's novel the use of special trains became more frequent. Men of wealth chartered them to reach the bedside of invalid members of their families; high government officials took them to expedite public business, very often they were brought into play for purely pleasure trips, where comfort and exclusiveness were desired quite as much as speed. In business emergencies special trains have been chartered to carry securities and in many cases have relieved the embarrassment of prominent firms.

With the extraordinary speed facilities afforded by the introduction of the 160 and 170 ton locomotives, heavier track ballast, only enough cars behind the locomotive properly to ballast it, and free headway, remarkable bursts of speed in special trains became so frequent that Kipling's fictitious record was soon eclipsed. As Verne's trip around the world, gave way to modern progress.

Flying Across the Continent.

It was Henry P. Lowe, chief engineer of the United States Steel corporation, who was destined to make an absurdity of the crowning feat of Kipling's novel. His trip with one or two exceptions was a counterpart of Harvey Cheyne's journey.

While in New York he learned of the critical illness of his daughter in Los Angeles, just as Harvey Cheyne in Los Angeles received tidings of the rescue of his long lost son. As Cheyne had done, Lowe used the New York Central lines between the Atlantic coast and Chicago and a special on the Santa Fe between Chicago and Los Angeles. His special, like Cheyne's, had the right of way, as in Cheyne's trip, speed that shocked division superintendents was attained, and finally both trips were made without mishap.

They would furnish an exact parallel were it not that they were made in opposite directions and that the personal elements in Lowe's journey presented romantic features far superior to those conjured by Kipling.

Cheyne's journey was a joyful mission; Lowe's one of anxiety. Cheyne took with him a wife growing stronger from prostration caused by her son's supposed loss; Lowe was racing toward a wife prostrated, though he did not know it, by the death of their daughter. Cheyne found his son safe and well. Lowe found his daughter dead, and, most dramatic of all, from the time that Lowe left Kansas the wires to the Pacific coast were down and he could get no intelligence of the condition of his daughter from the Kansas line until his arrival in Los Angeles.

In point of speed the actual journey beat the fictitious one by exactly fourteen hours and fourteen minutes. Lowe crossed the continent in seventy-three hours and twenty-one minutes. His special reached Los Angeles ten hours ahead of its schedule and beat the regular time of the Santa Fe's California Limited by fifteen hours and sixteen minutes. The record has not been surpassed up to the present time.

Established New Records.

Two other time records were established by special trains on the New York Central last fall. Norman Erb, vice president of the Pere Marquette railroad, traveling westward with Mrs. Erb on the New York Central, was caught in a wreck near Lyons. Mrs. Erb was fatally injured and Mr. Erb telephoned to Dr. Meyer of this city to come at once to Rochester on a special train. Mrs. Erb pending his arrival being taken to a hospital in that city.

The wreck occurred at 4:30 o'clock in the morning. At 7:33 half an hour after it was ordered by Dr. Meyer, the special left the Grand Central station and burned the rails all the way to Rochester, where it arrived at 1:59 p. m., having covered 351 miles in 386 minutes. This is at the rate of 59.66 miles an hour.

On December 23 last Louis Sherry, the restaurant keeper, received word that his son was seriously ill at Pau and a special train left the Grand Central twenty minutes after it was ordered by him and reached its destination in the Adirondacks quicker than the distance had ever been covered before.

To Meet Business Emergencies.

The extreme limit of speed possible in fine on railroads has also been attained on several occasions to meet business emergencies. During the Northern Pacific panic in 1901 on May 9, the day that the stock opened at 150 and touched 1,000, the Troy house of J. S. Bache & Co., soon after the opening of the market, informed the main office of the purchase of a block of stock.

Instructions were at once sent to rush the stock down by special train and at 10:45 there was made ready a division superintendent's pony, which is a combination locomotive and palace car. Such an engine, though capable of attaining high speed, runs a risk of jumping a track because of insufficient ballast when the throttle is thrown open, and it was a hair-raising trip down along the Hudson for the messenger with the stock in his possession.

The pony covered the 161 miles nine minutes faster than the schedule of the Empire State and pulled up in New York in time to permit the messenger, by stepping lively, to deliver the stock at the firm's office, New street and Exchange place, at 2:05 o'clock. He had the stock there ten minutes before the stated time for stock deliveries, so that the firm was able to make good whatever contracts it had.

The use of the pony probably cost at least $250, but rapid as the run was the market price of stock leaped faster. When the pony was ordered the quotation was 180, at the time of the arrival in New York it had passed 600.

When Delay Meant Ruin.

During the same financial crisis stock was rushed by special messenger from Boston, Philadelphia and other cities. It is reported that a large block came from Philadelphia with all possible speed to Mr. Harriman and his associates.

It was a time when a delay of a few hours might mean ruin or at any rate heavy loss. Seldom have railroads running into New York been subjected to a more severe test of promptness.

Again, during the latter part of last November it was of the greatest importance to certain brokers and bankers in New York and Chicago that the fast trains between Chicago and New York should run on their schedules to the minute. There had been a heavy fall of damp snow and sleet, not sufficient to block the railroads, but of a heavy, wet sort which proves fatal to telegraph wires.

It was three days before telegraphic communication between New York and Chicago could be restored, and in the interim Chicago and New York brokers sent messengers on the 960-mile trip, most of the boys leaving Chicago on the Twentieth Century Limited, arriving in time on the following morning to report Chicago orders before the opening of the market, and returning in the afternoon with a report of the securities purchased.

For Advertising Purposes.

Sometimes special trains are chartered for advertising purposes, as well as to secure facility in delivery. Every summer freight trains carrying nothing but harvesting machinery, the cars gayly decorated with cloth signs, travel through the Northwest, and the managers find it good advertising to haul along a number of empty cars over a large portion of the route.

The special advertising train device has been adopted by a firm which sells nothing more bulky than root beer. The big advertising signs on the cars attract the attention of a vast number of people in a trip through the country. The device is quite certain also to draw free notices from newspapers in villages and cities along the route.

Most of these freight trains are hauled by engines once celebrated, and this fact is also of value for advertising purposes. The famous 999 of the New York Central, for instance, which made the initial records of the Empire State Express and won a gold medal at the Pan-American exposition, is now drawing a milk train on the Harlem division. Its celebrity can be purchased for a time by any one who wants to advertise his goods by special freight.

Fast Time to Catch Liner.

Since time and tide wait for no man it is next to impossible to delay the departure of a transatlantic liner. It is absolutely impossible when the agents have fixed the sailing time at the last minute permitted by the tide.

Some prominent Chicago society women starting for England last fall to attend a fashionable wedding were ignorant of this fact. Taking an Erie train due in New York at 10:15 a. m. they had not the slightest doubt that the captain of a Cunarder due to sail at 10 o'clock would hold up the ship to accommodate them, and they were not informed of their error until a few hours before the time of their arrival in New York.

The agents of the Cunarder were appealed to in vain. They were obdurate. They had put the departure time at 10 o'clock and that, they said, was exactly the last minute that the ship could go out on the tide. Not for a hundred first-class passengers would they agree to wait a minute.

It was then up to the passenger department of the Erie to show what could be done to bring in the train ahead of its schedule with very little time to make arrangements. They decided to bring the train over what is known as the Bergen short cut, which is about fifteen minutes shorter than the regular line.

[illegible] telegraph or telephone every freight and way passenger train had to be got out of the way, and arrangements had to be made [illegible] make the [illegible] some one church on the telephone which [illegible] out and observe that persons who [illegible] live with children do so because they can not afford to do otherwise, except certain people who may be called child-fanciers—the [illegible] who should never have charge of children. The boarding school is the [illegible] security from the demoralizing influence of home. Shaw has no children himself, and doubtless if he had they might interfere with his monopoly of the limelight or with the steady crackle of his jokes. His work on the other hand might occasionally have more resemblance to the world as it is, or to any world in which anything could live.

GEORGE BERNARD SHAW AND CHILDREN.

Roosevelt's Spectacular Trip.

Mrs. Loftey, speeding eastward last fall from Chicago to greet her daughter, Lady Curzon, was more than seriously ill. England was in fortunate. After hurrying across to greet the Curzon Lincoln to wait an hour, she was obliged to put up with passage on the Saxonia of the Red Star line, which sailed the following day.

Of the numberless trips by special trains made by men of public life the most spectacular as well as one of the fastest was Roosevelt's rush from the north woods to Buffalo after President McKinley was shot. The trip of the special which took President Roosevelt's remains to Washington is [illegible] will not be forgotten.

There is a fixed charge for a special train. The price depends altogether upon circumstances. If the party desires great speed, making it necessary to clear the tracks for the special, the rate is very high.

One of the passenger agents in this city gives $2 a track mile as about the average rate. That would make a special train start from New York to Buffalo cost $800. New York Sun.

HAD TO HIDE IT

A mother wrote us recently that she had to keep Scott's Emulsion under lock and key—her children used to drink it whenever her back was turned. Strange that children should like something that is so good for them. It's usually the other way. Scott's Emulsion makes children comfortable, makes them fat and rosy cheeked. Perhaps that's why they like it so much—they know it makes them feel good.

ALLEGED HORSE THIEF CAUGHT

A man giving his name as Sam Smith was arrested yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff J. E. Allen on the charge of stealing a horse and buggy from Mr. Reasoner, who lives in the eastern part of the county. Yesterday morning by letters received by Sheriff Allen of this town, who brought the prisoner to this city upon the Rock Island train last night, and turned him over to the care of Deputy Sheriff Allen, who was at the depot waiting for him.

Smith is accused of stealing a horse at Simpson on May 1st. He sold a horse answering the description of the stolen animal to a livery man at Calhan Wednesday morning for $40. No sooner was the deal completed than Deputy Allen, who had been notified by the sheriff to look out for a horse thief, had Smith under arrest.

After being arrested by the sheriff, Smith had on his person an express money order receipt for a suit case, which is the property of Mr. Reasoner. The suit case was recovered, according to the receipt, on May 6.

Smith claims that he traded for the horse with a Mexican, but the sheriff's opinion differs from the officers, who believe they have made a good capture, the credit for which belongs largely to Deputy Allen.

CARE OF BRIDGE STILL DISPUTED

DEGREE OF HONOR CHANGES BY-LAWS

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS AND ALDERMAN HOLDEN FAIL TO REACH AGREEMENT AT CONFERENCE.

The county commissioners and Alderman Holden of the street committee held a conference at the court house yesterday relative to the Bear Creek bridge, which the commissioners declare is within the city limits. It appears that the bridge is on the extreme southern edge of the city limits and that the traffic over it is largely by those who reside in the city and outside the city. Mr. Holden suggested that the county [illegible] the bridge in question, but the commissioners opposed this idea on the ground that the South Tejon street bridge is just outside the city limits, but is used almost exclusively by residents of the city and is kept up by the county. The conference resulted in no agreement, except that the commissioners will probably insist that the city care for the Bear Creek bridge or share in the expense of the South Tejon street bridge maintenance.

At the closing session of the grand lodge of the Colorado, New Mexico and Wyoming jurisdiction of the Degree of Honor A. O. U. This is the first instance in the history of the jurisdiction that a city has been chosen for a convention that has [illegible] times and speaks well for the entertainment provided by the local lodge and the people of Colorado Springs.

The only other business transacted at yesterday's morning and evening sessions was the making of important changes in the by-laws of the order. Most of the changes were made in the beneficiary department and provision was made for the starting of a fund which will, in the future, assure the prompt payment of all claims against the jurisdiction without the levying of assessments. The out-of-town delegates left last evening for their homes.

MERGER MAY BE CONSUMMATED

Formation of the Ethel Louise Gold Mining Company to Take Over Conuncrum, Mary Ann and Other Valuable Properties.

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, May 11.—One of the largest and most important mining mergers in the history of the west end of Teweller hill was consummated yesterday at Colorado Springs when the consolidation of the Ajax-Ajax Extension company, the Mary Ann Mining company, the Mary Ann Mining company, the Conundrum Mining company and the Ethel Louise Gold Mining company, all operating under the head and the name of the Ethel Louise Gold Mining company, a corporation formed in Colorado Springs, papers of which were filed there yesterday.

The articles of incorporation of the Ethel Louise Gold Mining company were filed in this city with the county clerk and recorder, which shows that it was capitalized for $3,000,000, with the same number of shares at a par value of $1 each. The company's office is to be in Colorado Springs while operations will be in this county. The directors for the first year are Irving Howbert, J. A. Hayes, W. L. Davis, C. W. Howbert, T. Harris, G. E. Greene and W. C. Hanks.

The holdings of the new company are A. Hayes, vice president; F. H. Gay, secretary; A. H. Hunt, treasurer, and J. W. Howbert, general manager.

The holdings of the new company cover about 22 acres, located on the west slope of Gold hill, and practically all of the ground lies within the Cripple Creek mining district. By the consolidation it assures the new company that no obstructions in the future will occur between the three properties as no doubt would have become the case had they all been held separately.

The Conundrum mine which comprises this property has already produced in the neighborhood of $1,000,000. Besides this there are several other veins, one of which measures from four to six feet in width, that has produced nearly $500 a ton in the last few months and it is believed that this latter vein extends through the entire territory of the consolidation properties.

The new owners will work the ground through the Conundrum shaft which is now down to a depth of 800 feet and from the plans already decided upon by the owners the tonnage of ore leaving this property in the future will be many times what it has been in the past.

This afternoon, a meeting will be held by the new directors in the company's office in Colorado Springs, when the following officers will probably be chosen: Irving Howbert, president; J. A. Hayes, vice president; A. H. Hunt, secretary, and J. W. Howbert, general manager.

A RETROGRADE MOVEMENT IN STOCKS

Large Realizing Sales Cause Weakness.

NEW YORK, May 11.—The Consolidated movement would developed late today in the stocks connected with the Northern Securities company, culminating in a sharp break in the quotations for those stocks. Reports that settlements in the Harriman-Hill dispute had been effected and that the Northern Securities company had redeemed the securities pledged from a number of dailies and urged that the trend be stayed yesterday's record. This movement seemed also to respect the figures of this group of stocks on speculation opinion in general.

Previous to their arrival before the market showed no signs of weighing pressure. Gould's allegation on the rebound from yesterday's slight depression. Southern Pacific and Union Pacific were the leaders of this rebound on the circulation of assertions of the subject of their subsidiaries was shaping toward the [illegible] or settlement in Northern Pacific. The buying induced by these reports was quite substantial in amount and with the consummation of the [illegible] at market.

The movement led the recognition of the share of these two stocks in the superior strength of the [illegible] Northern Securities stock, which Northern Securities rose itself on the curb. Northern Pacific and Great Northern participated upward with vigor, which is attributable to the very small supply of these stocks in the open market. The [illegible] of this world supply leaves the wide [illegible] the stocks open to suspicion of manipulation which is easily manifested in the case of closely held stocks of that class. No news came out to explain the movement, but it resulted in [illegible] in stockholders all the rumors pertaining to an adjustment of threatened dispute over the Northern Pacific control.

There was no other news of the day that seemed to have effective influence on stocks, save it might be in prompting the abstention from active operations. A tendency was shown both in London and here to await the settlement in London tomorrow. Another depressive influence was found in the cultivation of the speculative [illegible] on railroad rate legislation. The weakness of the local traction was out of consideration of the expected decision by the supreme court of the state on the [illegible] tax law. Money was extremely easy, but sterling exchange held its [illegible] of yesterday. The stock market closed strong, but only moderately so.

Bonds were steady. Total sales, par value $2,775,000.

U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

GOVERNMENT CROP REPORT TAKES BULLS' SENTIMENT

CHICAGO, May 11.—Sentiment on the wheat pit was bullish from the start today. From the first tap of the bell until the close of business shorts and commission houses were active bidders. The government crop report was one of the main factors in the situation. An improvement of about one per cent in the condition of winter wheat since April 1 shown by official statistics did not apparently impress pit traders so much as did a statement in the government report that 1,472,000 acres of the area planted with wheat last fall had been abandoned or replowed as a result of the seed being winter killed.

That condition of the growing plant indicated a crop of 465,000,000 bushels which is about 92,000,000 bushels more than was harvested last year, did not seemingly affect traders. With minds fixed on the small remainder of the old crop and on the possibilities of accident to the new crop before harvest, a majority of operators were strongly of the opinion that at the great discount now current, the July option was a much better purchase than sale.

Continued wet weather throughout the winter wheat belt served to strengthen the minds of many operators in this bullish conviction. Furthermore receipts were small, a striking feature being a total absence of arrivals at Chicago. The cash was strong with July at 85¾@85¾.

Delay in planting operations owing to the prevailing weather brought out a good demand for corn resulting in a strong market. July closed at 47¾.

Oats were strong. The market closed at the highest of the day. July closed at 32¾.

Higher prices for grain and smaller receipts of hogs created a firm tone in provisions. Buying was of good character, much of the demand coming from brokers. July pork closed 7½ to 10 higher. Lard was up 2½ and ribs were unchanged.

Robbins ON THE CORNER

One of the Men Who Made the W. P. H. Famous Turns His Attention to Tenderfoot Hill to Look for Extensions.

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, May 11.—S. L. Seaver, who, with Charles E. Harrison, opened the bonanza ore in the W. P. H. property on Ironclad hill, has turned his attention to Tenderfoot hill and says he believes the extension of the famous W. P. H. and Damon ore bearing dikes extends to that territory.

Mr. Seaver had purchased one-half interest in the Kimsay lease on the Bob Lee adjoining the Hoosier.

The fact that such a prominent operator, who has so much money, is to develop that section of the camp is pretty good evidence that there is something there and it will greatly stimulate prospecting in that vicinity. The chances are that before long this hill will be one of the most active ones of the camp.

The shaft on the Bob Lee property is now down to a depth of 50 feet and is being sunk in the junction of a strong vein and dike. The assays at the present time range anywhere from $2 to $60 to the ton in gold and Mr. Seaver believes that the showing there is better than it was at any time on the W. P. H. up to the time the bonanza ore was encountered.

It is the intention to install a large plant of machinery on the property and push development work just as fast as possible for everyone believes that there is the making of a producing mine in that section.

Tenderfoot hill has always been an enigma to mining men as lots of float that paid well for shipping have been picked up from the surface. At the same time the real source of the ore has never been located.

The Hoosier mine which adjoins the Bob Lee was on the producing list for a long time and the royalties paid by the operator to the company permitted the company to pay nearly $40,000 to their stockholders in dividends.

SECOND DIVIDEND BY INDEPENDENCE

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, May 11.—On May 20 Stratton's Independence company, Ltd., will pay a dividend of $125,000, which will make the second dividend, or a total of $250,000, distributed among its stockholders so far this year, which clearly demonstrates that the company can make more money on the leasing system than on company account, without the risk usually incurred under company management.

The Independence is today operated entirely by lessees and the fact that the company has made sufficient money so far this year to permit of dividends in the sum of $250,000 speaks volumes in favor of the leasing system.

It is doubtful whether there is a company in the entire district today that is making so great a profit as this company.

LONDON MINING MARKET.

TO DEVELOP PRIDE OF CRIPPLE CREEK

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, May 11.—Steinbach and associates, who are operating under lease the Pride of Cripple Creek on Ironclad hill, are making preparations for the immediate installation of a large plant of machinery over the 150-foot shaft on the east end of the property when sinking will be resumed with all possible speed.

It is the intention of the operators to sink the shaft an additional 200 or 300 feet. When completed, they believe that with very little work they will cut the extension of the big ore shoot now being broken for a width of 60 feet in the Forest Queen property which adjoins. This ore shoot is netting the operators on the Forest Queen property thousands of dollars a month.

SEEKING VEIN IN THE FOREST QUEEN

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, May 11.—The Kansas City Mutual Mining company, operating block 3 of the Jerry Johnson property under lease, is prospecting a new vein recently cut at a depth of 100 feet, east of the shaft, which is believed to be the extension of one of the Forest Queen veins from which the latter is securing so much rich ore.
